

Trout Season Opens Saturday

RIVERS REPORTED NORMAL EXCEPT SOUTH BRANCH

The first contingent of Michigan's army of more than 100,000 fishermen will take to the streams Saturday morning, April 29, when the lid comes off on the 1939 trout season.

Estimates of the number of anglers on streams opening day are only approximate but a minimum figure is 25,000. Before the season is over, more than 100,000 fishermen will try their luck in Michigan waters.

Fee for the 1939 resident fishing license is $1. This license entitles the taking of all species of game fish except grayling. It is required of all persons over 17 years of age taking fish in any manner in inland waters.

Non-resident license fee is $2 and a special non-resident 10 day license may be obtained for $1. A non-resident license for the angler's wife is issued for an additional 50 cents.

Size and catch limits on the "Big Three" of troutdom, the brook, the brown and the rainbow remain the same as last year. No fish under seven inches in length may be retained. A total of 15 trout is the daily and possession limit.

Reports from the northern streams indicate that excellent fishing conditions will greet the anglers. An unusually cold spring has resulted in the snow and ice melting very slowly. Few serious floods, in consequence, threatened stream life. Spring freshets, in most cases, have resulted in little damage to cover in and along the streams. Many of the rivers are reported well within their banks with waters sufficiently clear to promise unusually good early fishing.

While many anglers will tempt the trout with assorted and vari-colored flies, most popular lure on opening day will be perhaps the oldest of fish baits, the "Garden Hackle" or common anglerworm. Few hatches of flies are to be expected on the still icy waters although warmer weather may bring a few. Worms and minnows will bring most trout to reel.

Trout streams in about Grayling are reported to be quite normal in condition, with exception of the South Branch which is reported to be deep and swift and quite red in color.

BIG PLANE LANDS AT HOUGHTON LAKE

The Houghton Lake airport was host to a surprise visit last Friday afternoon when a huge 6 ton coastguard plane landed on the field. The plane enroute from New York to Chicago, became lost in a snow storm and fog and after picking up and following the Sault Ste. Marie radio beam sighted the red beacon lights at the Houghton Lake state police broadcasting station and maneuvered to affect a safe landing at the adjacent airport. In landing, the heavy plane broke through the soft turf on the field and stalled in the mud, but no serious damage resulted.

Besides the pilot the plane was occupied by two officers of the mechanical division.

Owing to the soft condition of the field, a tractor was brought into play Monday and the plane towed out on M55 where state police had cleared the highway of auto traffic permitting the machine to take off from the pavement to continue its journey to Chicago.—Roscommon Herald News.

F. H. A. Financing Plan Explained

The problem of financing, especially with reference to new home construction, has long been a problem in this locality, due to the fact that there is no loaning institution in the near vicinity that handles the F.H.A. mortgage loan financing. It has therefore been a difficult matter for those people who wish to build to get any financial assistance.

In order that these prospective home builders might better come to understand the method of F.H.A. financing, Mr. Thomas E. Wood of Saginaw, was asked to come to Grayling to explain this financing to those interested. Mr. Wood represents the Michigan Life Insurance Company as mortgage loan correspondent, and he was brought to Grayling through the Grayling Lumber & Supply Co., local Housing Guild Headquarters.

The meeting was held Thursday evening of last week, at the Danebodo Hall, and was attended by approximately 40 property owners, business men and contractors. Mr. T. P. Peterson of the Grayling Lumber & Supply Co. introduced Mr. Wood, who explained that to procure F.H.A. financing, a lot in a desirable location is necessary, where sewer, water and other public utilities are available. To get the best loan value, this lot should have a frontage of not less than 60 feet and an average depth of about 100 feet. Lots with a frontage of 40 to 50 feet are often used. It is also necessary that the lot be located reasonably close to schools, churches and playgrounds, as well as being convenient to means of transportation, and it must also be inside the city limits.

A list of items that are required, to enable the F.H.A. to determine whether a mortgage is eligible for F.H.A. insurance includes:

1. Three sets of the plans, and three copies of the specifications.
2. Three copies of the contractor's agreement to build.
3. Four copies of the application.
4. Three copies of the credit report.
5. Four prints of each of two views of the lot.
6. Two copies of affidavit showing the amount of cash that the applicant has in the bank, or that is available. (This amount should be at least a little more than the difference between the loan and the cost of construction of the house).
7. A check for the amount of the application fee.

Through the F.H.A. system of insured financing, the loaning institution is guaranteed against loss and it is therefore possible for the loaner to let their money to the applicant at the low rate of interest of 5%. To this rate is added ¼ of 1% or ½ of 1% per annum, depending on the amount of the loan, and the period of the mortgage. The ¼ of 1% or ½ of 1% represents the cost of the mortgage insurance premium on the diminishing balances due under the terms of the mortgage.

These mortgage loans run for a period of 25 years, and Mr. Wood also explained that it was not advisable that the yearly payments exceed 25% of the applicant's income per annum.

Following Mr. Wood's talk, a number of questions were brought up by those present, which he explained more fully.

Mr. L. M. Lowery of Midland, who is a licensed architect working in conjunction with the Housing Guild Headquarters, explained about the architect's work in connection with the plans and specifications that are necessary in building a home under F.H.A. financing.

Mr. Lowery's talk was followed by a movie film in sound, showing the old and the new in building materials, which was furnished through the courtesy of the Johns-Manville Corporation.

1000 Boy Scouts Coming To Grayling

TO HOLD 3-DAY CAMPOREE AT WINTER PARK

There will be big doings in Grayling June 23rd, 24th and 25th, when over a thousand boy scouts will hold a three-day camporee at Grayling Winter park.

Preliminary plans for the event were discussed here last Sunday by scout officials headed by George F. Landane, scout executive of the Summer Trails council, and Earl R. Cristman, field executive, both of Bay City. Present at the meeting, held in the office of Holger F. Peterson, district chairman of the council were William Nahm, Landane and Cristman, of Bay City; Ed Strolle, chairman of the troop committee at Vanderbilt; Capt. Fred Miller, scoutmaster at Atlanta; Fred Welsh, of Grayling, member of the council; Herbert Rowland, scoutmaster of the local troop, Emil Giegling, president of Grayling Winter Sports, Inc.; Harley Russell, president of the local Chamber of Commerce, and Peterson. Following the meeting the group visited the winter sports park to view the layout and discuss probable camp sites for the more than 1,000 scouts from 50 troops expected to attend. A special train is scheduled to bring more than half of the campers to Grayling. Each troop will be headed by its scoutmaster and is expected to bring its own camping equipment for the three day outing. Their tents will be pitched among the pines at the park, at the foot of densely wooded hills surrounding the area. The camp sites for each troop will be designated in special plans to be drawn up by Nahm shortly. The various committees in charge of arrangements will be announced in a few days.

LOTS OF TROUT

If you are a fisherman and go out on the streams of Crawford county, and it is any kind of a fishing day, you may be sure of a good catch, if not the limit. The fish are there and it is up to you to catch them if you can.

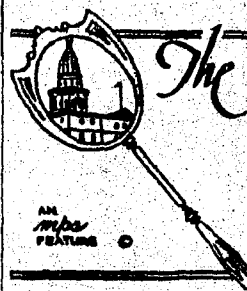

We have gone out of our way several times of late to inquire as to the fishing conditions for this spring. Persons residing on the rivers, fishing guides and other fishing experts, all are of the opinion that there are a lot of trout in the streams.

That means that, weather conditions being right, there will be a big catch on the opening day—Saturday, April 29th. The trout ARE there.

The several trout streams are reported about normal with exception of the South Branch where the water is reported to be high.

Lansing—The capitol circus is topsy-turvy.

Sidesteps over the McKay bridge fee and state purchasing investigations, just to mention two stellar attractions, are stealing the spotlight from the legislative big tent.

The net result is confusion, and a number of legislative veterans have come to the conclusion that they should attend to four major problems—welfare, civil service, labor and the budget—and go home.

The death of Governor Fitzgerald, the advent of a new leader and the subsequent inquiries which have centered around the convention manipulators, Frank McKay and Edward Barnard, have all tended to impede action in the House and Senate.

The fourth month is drawing to a close, and comparatively little has been accomplished. This is not intended as sarcasm. Circumstances have been most unusual.

Party Purge

While headlines hint of new sensations in connection with McKay and the Republican party, a group of legislators at Lansing is grimly determined to purge the party in Michigan of the growing suspicion that conventions have been controlled in recent years by big city bosses.

The fiery, crusading Elton R. Eaton of Plymouth, in Wayne county, led a band of young Republicans in the House to effect passage of a bill aimed at the clipping of Barnard's wings at Detroit. In the senate the bill encountered an unfriendly committee. A substitute bill was hurriedly introduced by Senator D. Hale Brake of Stanton.

With the McKay inquiry adding fuel to the flames, the Eaton-Brake allies are demanding a thorough "clean-up" of the party, once and for all. Apprehensive lest the party be accused of conducting a "whitewashing" investigation, James Thomson, chairman of the Republican state central committee, sent an investigation to Attorney General Frank Murphy at Washington for action by G-men. Murphy is said to have smiled cryptically at the letter and remarked: "He is just two weeks late."

Department of justice agents have been sifting possible evidence of fraud in connection with the Blue Water bridge financing. While it is very doubtful whether anything worthy of grand jury consideration will be found, Murphy is reported to be hopeful that G-men will be able to substantiate the charge which the New Deal governor made frequently last fall that gambling interests were leading contributors to the Fitzgerald campaign chest.

Thomson invites an inquiry, pointing out that the committee has a treasury deficit of $43,000. Messrs. Eaton and Brake have grabbed hold of the lion by the tail. Or, in language of the street, the party purge has become a "hot potato." Somebody's hands are sure to be burned!

Dunkel-Brown Fend

When Governor Luren D. Dickinson announced shortly after taking the oath of office that he would not be a candidate to succeed himself, party leaders immediately began to speculate on (1) whom would Dickinson appoint to be lieutenant-governor? (2) who would be the Republican nominee for governor in 1940?

The governor let it be known that he would not select his successor as lieutenant governor during the legislative session, and probably would make no choice at all.

As for the 1940 nomination, capital observers began to survey the "cabinet" to weigh possibilities.

Simultaneously, while the McKay sidestep was getting a full house, Auditor General Vernon J. Brown precipitated a counter attraction with a disclosure about cancellation of state purchasing orders involving many thousands of dollars, and substitute orders at higher prices.

State Treasurer Miller Dunkel, who with Brown and Thomas Read are responsible for state purchases, promptly branded Brown as a publicity seeker and declared openly that he (Brown) was courting the nomination in 1940. Dunkel said that the higher prices could be explained. Thus, the first inter-cabinet feud has started.

The decision of Governor Dickinson to sign a bill appropriating $2,500,000 for public school tuition came as a relief to educators.

Grover C. Dillman, director of the state budget, recommended that this amount be authorized as advance payment on the school's allocation of state money for the coming fiscal year. Dr. Eugene B. Elliott, superintendent of public instruction, reported that none of the financially distressed districts would have to close public schools. Rep. John P. Espie, chairman of the House ways and means committee, added encouragement to the picture by saying that the committee had agreed upon a $37,000,000 allocation for the schools and that it might not be necessary to deduct the $2,500,000 from that sum.

Dillman opined: "The state is very sound financially. Its net debt is only some $5 per capita, and only 12 states have a lower net debt and some states have a debt nearly 20 times as high as Michigan's. From a long-term point of view, the state government is sound financially, although it is seriously embarrassed as to immediate cash requirements."

Governor Dickinson indicated that the 1939-40 budget would be balanced despite the $2,500,000 payment this spring.

Labor Mediation

Two of the major problems—civil service and labor—have had identical treatment in the legislature:

1. A drastic labor relations bill, calling for the Fitzgerald 10-day strike notice, was passed the house by Republican caucus agreement only to be thrown out by a senate labor committee.

2. A civil service bill, calling for reduced classifications so that less than one-half of all employees would be affected, was passed by the house only to be sidetracked in the senate.

The senate labor committee, of which liberal Senator Harry Hittle of Lansing is chairman, has reported out a substitute bill. This measure would create a three-man labor mediation board to seek settlement of difficulties between employer and employee in intrastate commerce. As nearly all of the major industries are subject to the federal Wagner act, the state mediation board would affect chiefly the small industries which are now outside the C.I.O. field.

Since the United States Supreme court outlawed sit-down strikes, some legislators feel there is no pressing need for Michigan legislation. Senator Hittle, however, feels that the party cannot ignore labor and that it should woo workers by legalizing picketing, restricting court injunctions, and providing machinery for collective bargaining.

Civil Service Again

All existing eligible lists would be abolished by the Brake civil service bill which was reported out for consideration of the senate the other day.

This measure, a substitute for the house civil service bill, would require the civil service commission to conduct new examinations.

Exempt from civil service would be all professional people (even attorneys and nurses have had to take a civil service examination), persons in specialized occupations such as bank examiners, insurance actuaries, cashiers, sales tax auditors and so on; division heads, court employees, labor department deputies, attorney general employees and all unskilled workers.

Governor Dickinson has assured friends of civil service of fair play.

With separate bills passed by the house and senate, the final measure will be agreed upon in conference committee.

The Lansing sidesteps, however, have taken much of the "heat" off labor and civil service. European headlines, too, are diverting the voter's attention from the legislative scene.

GIVE TOWNSEND PLAN FAIR STUDY

Grayling and Frederic Townsend clubs are sponsoring a complete message of the Townsend Plan in this edition of the Avalanche. Business and professional people of both places have assisted them in getting their message before the public by contributing to the cost of the space, although they are remaining neutral on the subject matter.

The Avalanche does not endorse the Townsend Plan in its present entirety, but it does feel that the public at large should give the plan a very comprehensive study and instead of throwing sarcastic remarks at it, really find out what the Townsend Plan is all about.

The United States is far behind many foreign countries when it comes to caring for the aged, and with our large industrialists continually lowering the age limit for employment, the time has come when we Americans should give some very serious thought to what we are going to do about our fathers and mothers, who were the builders of our present generation.

One fault with us Americans is that of neglect in studying seriously our many involved economic problems. We cannot pass off lightly the devastating situation of our older people. We must find an intelligent way of giving comfort and security to these men and women who have sacrificed their lives in rearing families and slaving at bench, counter or desk to get the necessary money to educate the young, and to bring up our families the American way.

The Avalanche feels that any plan that points towards helping the aged should be given complete publicity and, if worthy, be given proper support by the people and their servants in Congress.

MICHIGAN WANTS NO MORE TAXES

Miller Dunckel, youthful and enthusiastic State Treasurer, laments the existence of a $25-000,000 deficit left over by the Murphy administration, and would ask for an additional one per cent sales tax to pay it up.
He would call it the "Murphy Deficit Tax."

At first blush, one might say:
"That's fine—it can be blamed to the Murphy administration, so the Republicans won't have to carry the blame."

Basically, so far as economic recovery is concerned, such a tax would be wrong, no matter what you call it. For a tax is a tax, regardless of its wearing apparel.
Another one per cent sales tax is an immediate penalty upon purchasing power; when you decrease purchasing power with a tax, you decrease the amount of goods that may be purchased, and so you create one of the reasons for decreased production, which means decreased employment.

We hope Treasurer Dunckel re-appraises his suggestion.
Personally, this newspaper believes that the best way to pay off the Murphy deficit is for the state government, from its present income, to take that portion that may be saved by efficiency and frugality. That is the best kind of politics too—George Averill in The Birmingham Eccentric

leged acts of vandalism by the

Recover Part of Loot

In Mt. Pleasant where the gang's activities have been centered for some time Trooper John Horvath, who is working on the case under direction of Sergeant Lloyd J. Wagner, post commander, had recovered stolen articles valued at approximately $100.
Search is still being continued for a camera valued at about $125 and several valuable field glasses.

Sergeant Vern Dagen of the Houghton Lake post announced that his force had recovered stolen articles to the value of $300 in the vicinity of Houghton Lake. A stolen car abandoned by the youths near that place was loaded to capacity with summer cottage articles of all descriptions.

Held at Mt. Pleasant

One boy, aged 17, is being held in the county jail in Mt. Pleasant. Nine others are being held in the county juvenile detention home. All with the exception of the youth held in jail are students and pupils in the local high and grade schools. Ages of the boys range from 17 down to 10.

The depredations of the gang have been committed over a period of months. Three of the boys are stated by the local police to have stolen three automobiles during that time. Thefts from automobiles in this city have been numerous and all are attributed by Trooper Horvath to the gang.

The Rhoades Family . . . by Squier

Two tax collectors are always on the heels of the U. S. motorist. In addition to the state gasoline taxes, the federal government in 1932 enacted a "temporary" 1¢ per gallon tax, which duplicates the state taxes and adds 25¢ annually to the motorist's tax bill. The taxes increase the cost of gasoline by one-third.

Nature's finest engineer is the beaver whose dams and canals were once scattered throughout the United States except for coastal plains and arid western deserts. Michigan's beaver are now numerous enough again to allow a trapping season, March 15 to April 5 in the lower peninsula and April 1 to 15 in the upper peninsula.

Baking Day in Quebec Baking day is a family affair in the province of Quebec. The outdoor ovens, made of clay with shingled roofs, are heated by wood fires usually once a week and a whole family, from grandmere down to the youngest tot, helps keep the oven going and in carrying big pans of bread from oven to house.

GET THE FACTS ABOUT THE TOWNSEND PLAN AND HELP REBUILD AMERICA!

Established by . . .
DOCTOR FRANCIS E.
TOWNSEND

Introduced as . . .
GENERAL WELFARE
ACT, H. R. 2

After six long years of vain and futile effort on the part of state and federal government, largely devoted to unintelligent and wholly uncoordinated experiments, there is as yet no indication of any inclusive and effective recovery from the economic downfall of 1929-1932.

Meanwhile, throughout most of this six-year period, there has been growing, under the guidance of Dr. Francis E. Townsend, a popular movement in favor of the Townsend Recovery Plan, which he originated.

It was originally put forth as an Old Age Pension plan and was widely condemned by the unthinking and financial powers, because it seemed to call for a pension of $200 a month to each person over 60 years of age. It became misrepresented and maligned as just that and nothing else.

The truth is that the Townsend Recovery Plan is a comprehensive, logical, practicable plan for the rehabilitation and stabilization of the whole national economic structure. It is the only plan thus far prominently advocated that will save the nation from a premature and politically controlled—and therefore corrupt and dictatorial—lapse into communism on the one hand, or a bloody civil war on the other.

Its aim is purely one of social justice and economic security for all worthy people of every age. It is designed to provide opportunity for youth, profitable work for young manhood and womanhood, security for the middle-aged to enjoy the fruits of their own individual labors, and comfort for the aged, which has been denied them under the present system of industrial peonage and financial brigandage, not to mention political banditry.

The plan—embodied in a bill known as H.R.2—proposes to collect a tax of 2 per cent on all business transactions; to set up a revolving fund with this tax, which shall be divided monthly, pro rata, after administrative costs are paid, among all eligible applicants. Two hundred dollars per month is the maximum payment, as provided by the act.

Eligible applicants are defined as all citizens of the United States, 60 years of age or over, free from criminal record, who will retire from gainful occupation and agree to spend the monthly annuity payments within the borders of the United States within 30 days from the time they receive them for American-made goods.

Restrictions placed upon the spending are such as would prevent the money from being used to support able-bodied sons and daughters in idleness. The money may not be given away, beyond a certain liberal percentage to churches and charities. It must be paid for bona fide goods and services, to the end that trade shall be stimulated and employment of labor increased.

The plan proposes to abolish poverty in the United States. It would do so, since it would establish and maintain buying power in every countryside, hamlet, village, and city in the country, and require that buying power be used.

It would eventually wipe out all forms of public charity, such as community chests, poor farms and poor houses, doles, WPA, PWA, etc., since it would assure continued and even increasing demand for the products of industry, the services of professional people, the means of transportation and communication.

It would simplify the taxation system of the country by substituting a simple direct tax for the complicated and unjust taxation schemes now foisted upon the country by a greedy political hierarchy.

The spending provision in the Recovery Plan would bring immediate benefits to every class of people. The farmers would find a readier market and a better price for food products. Labor would have plenty of work producing goods and rendering services. Salesmen would find more buyers for their wares. Doctors and nurses, dentists and oculists would be busy beyond any previous experience. Merchants would again be heartened by the merry peal of the cash register.

Everybody, in the course of making his living, has to sell something—his time, his muscle, his products or his goods. Unemployment, pauperism, the need of relief doles and "made work," have all arisen from the lack of buying power throughout the nation. It is this lack of sustained buying power that the government has failed to cure. In fact, its uncoordinated experiments have defeated themselves, since buying power has declined steadily, so far as a majority of the nation's producers are concerned, ever since 1929. Increased taxation, increased numbers on relief or on low-wage work projects, and a general loss of confidence in the future, have led people to withhold purchasing power, if they had it, and have tremendously cut down the purchasing power of millions, until they have practically none left.

Buying power, and the resultant consumption of goods and services, are not stimulated by the so-called "subsistence wage," since it is evident that those who are now employed are supplying all that is needed for a bare "subsistence" level or standard of living. Some large and universally distributed group or class of people MUST be provided with quick, effective buying power AT ONCE, and THROUGHOUT THE COUNTRY. It could be young people going to school, but it is not deemed good for the young people themselves, nor good for society that they should have the weakened morale nor the general attitude which such a gift would be likely to give them.

It could be the parents of children. One country in Europe, it is said, pays a bonus to the parents upon the birth of each child. However, we are still individualists and most AMERICAN parents will prefer an opportunity to support their own children rather than accept government gifts, as a price for their human liberty.

But here are the people of 60 years and over. Their days of active usefulness are nearly over. Most of them have done their life's work, have earned a few hours of leisure and repose. Many of them are broken in health and need the services of doctors, dentists, oculists, nurses, and so on. Many of them are compelled by financial stringencies to continue working. Their rewards are small, so they cannot have the professional attentions they need.

What could be more appropriate than to make these aged people—of whom every community has its share—the medium through which to distribute the much-needed buying power that will soon spread employment, prosperity, opportunity and happiness to every family and individual in the land? It is just that they who have toiled through the heat of the day shall enjoy their reward in the cool of the evening. The nation owes it to them, more especially since the government failed in its duty to protect the sanctity of their possessions in the case of millions who were robbed of their life savings in the wild speculations of 15 to 20 years ago.

The two per cent transaction tax is less than the discount that any merchant would be glad to grant to his customers for cash payments at the time of purchase. Let the purchases made by elderly people, which now average about $27 per month, jump to $75 per month, which they would probably be during the first months of operation of the Recovery Act. At once this money would begin to circulate throughout the community; more people would be in a position to buy more goods, employ more help and build the new houses and buildings that are badly needed, and pay cash for more of the things they need.

It aims to reward labor and service more liberally and as fully as possible and consistent with the maintenance of what is known as the profit system. Its effect would be to spread profits out to a larger proportion of the people, without greatly reducing the profits of any legitimate enterprise. In other words, the increased consumption of goods and employment of services would extend opportunity for profitable work to the millions who are now, and have long been, almost or wholly without employment or income.

Interesting Events In Grayling 23 Years Ago

INTERESTING ITEMS OF NEWS GATHERED FROM THE FILES OF THE AVALANCHE OF 23 YEARS AGO

Thursday, April 27, 1916

A fitting climax to Grayling's unprecedented industrial activity of the past year will be the opening of a fine new hotel—Shoppington Inn. This will occur Thursday evening and be celebrated with an opening banquet. Grayling has long needed an up-to-date hotel and last spring, by the efforts of the stockholders of the Salling, Hanson Co., R. Hanson & Sons and a few citizens, the Grayling Hotel company was organized. Work was started at once and the contractor, George Lathers, turned the building over to the owners April 1st. The affair will begin with a sumptuous banquet, after which a program will be presented.

Mrs. James Olson spent the latter part of the week in Bay City.

Miss Ingeborg Christofferson is home from Detroit visiting her parents who reside in Beaver Creek.

Allen B. Failing and daughter, Francella, left Friday to be the guests of relatives in Dayton, Ohio, over Easter.

Charles Owens entertained a number of friends at the home of his sister, Mrs. H. C. Schmidt, Thursday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Reagan are receiving congratulations on the arrival of a daughter, born Monday morning at Mercy Hospital.

M. A. Bates announced that he wishes to become a candidate on the Republican ticket for the nomination for representative in the State Legislature for Presque Isle District, in the primary election to be held in August of this year.

The confirmation class of the Danish Lutheran church, enjoyed many pleasant evenings last week at the home of a couple of its members. Friday evening Miss Anna Peterson entertained very nicely at her home, and Saturday evening Miss Margrethe Nielsen gave a very pretty party. Miss Elvira Rasmussen entertained Tuesday evening of this week.

A son was born Monday morning to Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Brady.

Miss Bernadette Cassidy arrived home Saturday from Pontiac, where she has been holding the position of stenographer in the Advertising Department of the Oakland Motor Co. She will remain at home for the present to assist her father.

Miss Margaret Joseph, who is attending a Normal school at Milwaukee, spent Sunday with her parents here. Mr. and Mrs. Harry Fredman and daughter who have been visiting Mrs. Fredman's parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. Joseph for a couple of months, left for their home in Milwaukee.

John Valentine, a lumberjack, who has been around the camps in Frederic for many years, was instantly killed at Frederic Friday morning, when a train near the depot at that place backed upon him. He was middle aged and unmarried, and nothing was known of his relatives.

Miss Edna McCullough returned Sunday from a few days stay in Bay City.

Mrs. T. W. Hanson and Miss Cornelia Melstrup spent a few days in Detroit this week.

Stanley Inley is home from Notre Dame college, spending a couple of weeks with his parents and friends.

Miss Mable Nelson spent Saturday and Sunday with friends in Big Rapids.

Thomas Kechittago, a well known Indian character in this vicinity, passed away Monday morning at Mercy Hospital where he had been receiving treatment for the past couple of weeks. His exact age was not known but it is believed to be in the eighties. He came with his family to Grayling in the early 90's and he and his wife have been consistent members of the M. E. church for many years. Mr. Kechittago was laid to rest beside the remains of his two children, in Elmwood cemetery.

My Neighbor Says:

Serve one slice of lemon sprinkled with parsley with each serving of clear soup.

Some of the hardy annuals can be seeded on frosted ground and will start to grow earlier.

When cutting meat loaves, use a sharp knife that is frequently dipped in warm water to insure even-edged pieces.

If laundry is to be sent out and is paid for by weight, be sure that all the articles are thoroughly dry. Moist materials weigh more.

To remove grease stains from a stove sprinkle salt on a stiff brush which has been dipped in hot water and thoroughly scrub the stove.

Nut-cheese balls placed on a fruit or vegetable salad plate add color and variety. To make the balls, shape white, yellow or cottage cheese into one-inch balls and roll them in shredded nuts.

Judge W. W. Potter, of the Michigan Supreme court, and his son Philip were in Grayling last week, stopping at the latter's cottage on the AuSable. It would get away from the congested condition of Lansing and away from the unpleasant weather and climatic conditions of that place. Grayling is almost in the center of Michigan, (including the Upper Peninsula) and is easily accessible from any point in the state. The state owns large areas of land where a "District of Michigan" could be ideally located.

Large Crowd Hears Albion College Band

50 STUDENTS RENDER FINE CONCERT

Albion College band played one of their concerts in Grayling Wednesday night, stopping here while on their annual spring itinerary thru the state. They made their presentation at the school auditorium.

There were fifty boys and girls in the group, under direction of Conway Peters. They opened with Sousa's inspiring march "The Stars and Stripes Forever," which put the audience in a patriotic mood and prepared to listen to their fine concert of classical and humorous numbers that followed.

There were several numbers in solos and trios that the audience greatly enjoyed, and they showed splendid talent that was a fine credit to the music department of Albion college. This was a splendid group of young musicians and Grayling people not only enjoyed their music, but enjoyed the youngsters themselves. While here they stayed at the homes of Grayling people.

Mr. Roland and the members of the Grayling band deserve the thanks of Grayling people for bringing the Albion band here. Later the Grayling band will render a concert and we know they too will give a good account of themselves.

KALKASKA TROUT FESTIVAL STARTS TOMORROW

Of course you will be going to the Kalkaska Trout festival Friday and Saturday. The big parade Friday at 1:00, will be headed by Grayling Drum and Bugle Corps. The Kalkaska Chamber of Commerce is spending a lot of money on this event, just for the pleasure of their festival guests. The King-Queen-Fishermen-Press banquet will be held Friday night. The festival will close Saturday night with a grand ball, music being furnished by Tim Doolittle and his Pine Center Gang, of WJR radio fame.

The four queens who will compete for the title of 1940 Trout Queen are: Katherine Hengy, of Kalkaska; Ida Marie Lorent, Traverse City Winter Sports Queen; Loretta Rusmeyer, and Marie Buckwheat, of Mancelona, and Margaret Buck, of Grayling.

BOYS FROM 14 TO 20 ELIGIBLE FOR CMTC

Applications for enrollment in the Citizens Military Training camps are now being filed. This offers to youths between the ages of 17 and 21 an opportunity to receive military training next summer, with all expenses paid and some compensation included.

Several Grayling boys have had this service in past years and all were enthusiastic over it. It not only teaches the boys in military science but gives them the finest kind of physical training as well.

Grayling enrollees will go to Fort Brady near Sault Ste. Marie. All expenses are paid from Grayling and return, uniforms are furnished and meals and sleeping quarters are provided. Here's a fine chance for Crawford county boys to have this fine vacation with pay. It is excellent experience and helps to build manhood and self-reliance. Interested parents and boys should consult Dr. C. R. Keyport for detailed information.

Harold Cliff and Roy Trudgeon have learned that it doesn't pay to talk back to an officer. When at a small stream near Roscommon to watch fishermen dip suckers at a river dam, Sunday night, it was necessary for them to park their car in line with others on a narrow road. When they wanted to get out it was to either wait in line for the other cars to move or the car in front would have to be moved.

One bystander offered to get their car out but they didn't let him. Finally, it is said, the fellow forced himself into their car and drove out. He claimed that he was a state police officer in plain clothes, but it is reported that he didn't have credentials to prove it.

After they got out on the highway, it is stated, the fellows were sore and decided to go to the state police station at Houghton Lake to find out if the fellow was really an officer. While they were at the police station the supposed "impersonator" (who was really a State police officer), appeared. Hot words followed and finally our local fellows were taken to Roscommon and charged with disturbing the peace and were let off on payment of costs.

New Highway Maps Are Out

Crawford Avalanche
Grayling, Michigan

Copies of the Summer edition of the 1939 Official Michigan Highway Map are being sent to you under separate cover.

New features of this Summer edition include a small inset map showing routes of scheduled airlines in Michigan, an index to counties and county seats and a new type of outline to identify county lines.

The reverse side of the map shows pictorially a few of the many attractions offered to tourists in Michigan.

We are proud of our Michigan as one of the foremost recreational states in the country. The tourist business is our second industry, bringing over three hundred million dollars annually to our people. Our cool, refreshing summer climate, our 2,300 miles of shoreline on the Great Lakes, our thousands of inland lakes and streams, and our great scenic North Country all help to make Michigan a great vacation center.

We hope you will spend your own vacation in Michigan and urge your friends from other states to come here and enjoy our hospitality.

These maps are distributed at no charge and a limited number of copies are still available if needed.

Sincerely yours,
M. D. VanWagoner,

ONE'S CHARACTER OR ABILITIES

CANNOT BE TOLD FROM THE SHAPE OF THE SKULL

It was once believed that the "bumps" on one's head were indications of characteristics and abilities of that person. A so-called "science" of phrenology sprang up around this theory. Modern scientific investigations, including comparisons of thousands of persons with similar skull features, have proved that there is little, if any, relation between skull shapes and mental abilities.

England's Baring Panic

The Baring panic occurred in England in 1890 and came at the end of a period of violent speculation. The failure of the brokerage house of Baring Bros. precipitated the panic which spread to a number of other banks and brokerage houses. The intensity of the crisis was alleviated by loans of gold obtained by the Bank of England from the Bank of St. Petersburg and the Bank of France.

(By R. E. Prescott, in Alcona County Herald)

HOUSECLEANING TIME

When the April sun is shining and the balmy breezes blow, and we feel no sad repining for the winter's ice and snow; purple lilac buds are bursting, greenish tints bedeck the lawn, and the crows' discordant chatter breaks the solitude at dawn; when the creeks are full of water and the fishing's getting prime, there's a shadow on the picture, for that means housecleaning time.

Scatter rugs, drape steps and porch rails, curtains ripple in the wind, blankets hang in motely colors from the lines where they are pinned. In the house from top to basement reigns a state of disarray—davenport and chairs and tables where they're always in the way; beds and dressers topsy turvy, grand confusion everywhere, while the whine of vacuum cleaner broadcasts music in the air. Smells of lysol and ammonia chasing winter's dust and grime. Meals from cans or from the ice box. Home sweet home at cleaning time.

Cleaning time brings recollections of the bygone days of yore—age of oil lamps, stoves and parlors with rag carpets on the floor—age of dreaded carpet-beater with a small boy at the end, one of life's depressing moments, when a feller needs a friend. Times have changed since 'way back yonder. Eras come and eras go. Now we have electric lighting, vacuum cleaners, radio. Cleaning now is a automatic—washers clean the family duds; turn a switch and boiling water does the work with supersuds. Broom and dustpan now have vanished. Motors now do everything. But that matches nichts aus to mother—she still housecleans every spring.
